18. TIMELINESS OF MOTION: If your judgment of conviction became final over one year ago, you must explain why the one-year statute of limitations as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2255 does not bar your motion.* I respectfully ask to have my motion considered. I have asked my former law firm to do this for me and was denied help from them and told that it could not be done. I did not know until less than 2 weeks ago I had these rights, now I have made preparations as swift as possible to work on this. I have been denied 3 times over the last year to have these facts looked at along with others not pertained in this. I was told they were not required to do this because Mike Krampner has retired. I didn't know I could do this myself till recently.

* The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 ("AEDPA") as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2255, paragraph 6, provides in part that:

A one-year period of limitation shall apply to a motion under this section. The limitation period shall run from the latest of —

- (1) the date on which the judgment of conviction became final;
- (2) the date on which the impediment to making a motion created by governmental action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the movant was prevented from making such a motion by such governmental action;
- (3) the date on which the right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if that right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review; or
- (4) the date on which the facts supporting the claim or claims presented could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.

Therefore, movant asks that the Court grant the following relief:

That I be resentenced by the amount of money that I actually recieved, therefore my sentence and my restitution would be considerably less and deserved or any other relief to which movant may be entitled.

None
